

Barry J. Warner, FASLA, AICP

SRF Consulting Group, Inc.

Barry received the Bachelor of Landscape Architecture with Distinction in 1976 and extended his environmental studies at the Wright-Ingrahm Institute in Colorado Springs, Colorado that same year. He was a Principal Associate in the firm of Barton-Aschman Associates, Inc. from 1980 to 1995 and now is a Senior Vice President for the SRF Consulting Group, Inc. Barry has been registered as a Landscape Architect in Minnesota, No. 15708, since 1982, and has been registered with the American Institute of Certified Planners since 1990. Currently, he is a member of the American Planning Association, the Minnesota Chapter of the American Planning Association, Minnesota Park and Recreation Association and the Congress for the New Urbanism.

In the past 23 years, his project contribution to landscape architecture has focused on large public projects with challenging public policy, public process and design issues. He is recognized for his ability to solicit meaningful public input and contributes the values and ideals of landscape architecture within a community setting. Representative projects include the Saint Paul Riverfront renovation, Minneapolis urban design and streetscapes, and a regional network of trails and greenways. While working at Barton-Aschman Associates, Inc., he was appointed Principal Associate, the youngest candidate in the company's history. Most recently, he has been elevated to Senior Vice President with SRF Consulting Group, Inc. and has assumed corporate Business Development Activities.

Barry has advanced the profession of landscape architecture with two decades of service dedicated to the Minnesota Chapter and to national ASLA activities, and as a professional in public forums and projects. Barry has shown over an extended period of time, distinctive leadership ability, a true sense of organization and the skill to inspire others to do their best in advancing the profession. These qualities clearly set him apart in providing service to the profession of landscape architecture.
